The following are the actual costs incurred in complying with the request to copy Atlanta Police Department records pursuant to O.C.G.A. 50-18-70. There is no charge for the first quarter hour of time expended in record preparation. The Open Records Act allows an agency to waive all fees should it so choose. The Act also authorizes an agency to charge up to $0.10 per page, provided that it uses the most economical means of copying reasonably available. There is no charge for simple inspection of records that are routinely subject to public disclosure. However, copying charges will accrue for the inspection of records containing information not subject to dissemination under the Act to allow for redaction to occur. No fees other than those directly attributable to providing access shall be assessed where records are made available by electronic means.
