Hey. I'm running a few minutes behind. I may not be late, but if I am it won't be very late. No more than 15-20 minute worst case.

Hey boss. Hope you're time off is going well. Scoggins tried to help me find someone to work Saturday but no luck. I was going to ask if you think coming in late would be acceptable. If so, great, if not I get it. I definitely don't want to put anyone on a tight spot.

I'm personally fine with it either way. I just have to ask to try and keep Holly off my back since her family changed plans on me. I would try to make it no more than about 9ish to the best of my ability since it's for a 6yr old who should t be out late anyway.

Is anybody off for thanksgiving week? I'm not sure where I am on PTO but I definitely don't want to let it roll into elb with the extra we're getting. Other than that we're wanting to do a such extra stuff for Holly's kid while she's out of school since she's done well this year. I'll talk to you about it Monday if need be, just wanted to give you a heads up that I'd like to try to worn something out if possible.

Take that up with Allen and his mom. And it's not your fault. Crap happens. If there's any blame it would be on higher ups for adding people to training amid a "catastrophic pandemic" which cuts down our work force.

Hey boss man. So, yesterday I started coughing a bit and having sinus drainage that messed with my stomach. I felt pretty crappy, but I believe it's consistent with my usual sinus infections. I'm very sure that's all it is, but medical said they won't get my test result from Wednesday back until Monday. It definitely doesn't feel like anything I haven't worked through before, I just know how captain is right now. I wanted to get with you and see what you think I should do. Definitely do t want to mess up your weekend and the knot thing that would stop me from being able to work would be if captain told me no or if I mysteriously feel worse when I wake up later. Sorry that was so long.

So. Today is day 10 since symptoms started. I tried to meds last night but fever went back to 100.2 at about 2am. I read that ibuprofen may not be the best drug to use so I'm going to try only using Tylenol today and try again with no meds Tuesday.

May be running a few minutes late. Don't plan to and may not be, but it's possible. It won't be more than 10-15 if anything though. Very sorry.

Quick question and I hate to ask it. Last night my stomach was bothering me, but I was able to get through it. Today it has been a bit harder to ignore. I'm pretty sure it's personal stress related rather than being sick, but it's kept me up and in the bathroom quite a bit today. If needed I will still come in, I just may need a little more time in the crows nest like last night. Let me know either way when you wake up. I'm trying some medicine now before I lay back down.
